Skills Recognition is available for all certificate courses and the units of competency within those courses.

There are 35 individual training units across all courses with many of these units duplicated, or replaced by other units in an advanced course. You need to look at the detail of each TDM07 unit and gather:

- Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) i.e. evidence of prior training and qualifications
- Recognition of Current Competence (RCC) i.e. evidence of current competence
- For more details of the units and codes view the training units and codes
